Albuquerque, NM — Comedian and actor Gary Owen is extending his "No Hard Feelings Tour" to Albuquerque. Owen takes the Kiva Auditorium stage at the Albuquerque Convention Center at 8 p.m. on Jan. 30, 2027. Tickets are on sale now at Ticketmaster.com.

Produced by Icon Concerts, the tour marks Owen's first major North American theater run, featuring his signature blend of family, culture and everyday life to the stage.

As a stand-up comedian for over two decades, Owen continues to defy convention throughout his career. His style has built a passionate, cross-cultural fanbase that spans race, gender and generation. Owen has cemented his status as one of the most in-demand touring comedians in the country.

Owen has appeared in feature films including "Back on the Strip" alongside Tiffany Haddish, "Meet the Blacks" and its sequel "The House Next Door," "Think Like a Man" and "Think Like a Man Too," "Ride Along" with Ice Cube and Kevin Hart, "Little Man" opposite the Wayans Brothers, and "Daddy Day Care" with Eddie Murphy. On television, he starred in his own BET series "The Gary Owen Show" and co-hosted TruTV's sketch series "Upload with Shaquille O'Neal." After meeting Tyler Perry on "The Tom Joyner Morning Show," Owen was cast in the recurring role as Zach the barber on TBS' "Tyler Perry's House of Payne."

He continues to write, produce and perform his own comedy specials, including "Black Famous," "#Doin' What I Do," "I Got My Associates," "I Agree with Myself," "True Story," "Urban Legend" and "Breakin' Out the Park" "Broken Family," and "Gary Owen…No S." Most recently, he released his viral hit special, "No Hard Feelings," on YouTube with over 5 million views and counting.
